INTRODUCTION

This sociology resources guide is intended to assist students, faculty and other library users in finding and locating sociology and its related subject resources in CSUSM library. The sources listed here include reference books, indexes/abstracts, databases, periodicals, videotapes, and audiocassettes available in the library or accessible electronically from library computers.

The guide is divided into two parts. The first part includes sources for all fields of sociological studies. The second part lists materials for the four concentration areas of study of CSUSM sociology program. All entries are annotated except for journals and audiotapes. Materials listed are arranged according the type of reference source: dictionaries, indexes, videotapes etc. Within each type, titles are listed alphabetically.

This guide covers materials received at California State University, San Marcos Library through December 1999. For more current information, check the abstracting and indexing sources and computer databases listed. For additional assistance, contact a reference librarian for a research appointment.

All titles is listed only once in the book. Aside from the table of contents, a title index is provided at the back of the guide to optimize accessibility.
